

Kevin Salmon

I was born in Whangarei and have lived here all my life. I started as a travel agent straight from school a career I worked in for 25 years. 4 years ago I joined the Alzheimer's Society as General Manager and have enjoyed the challenges that face most Not for Profit organisations. I was invited to join the Consumer Council after my Mum passed away late in 2014. I have a special focus in advocating for those patients with dementia and I hope that the Council role will allow me to make positive changes in Northlanders care.
